

From Margaret Simmons, PVP VP of Classes

Published: Monday, May 18, 2020

Because we are unsure of our opening schedule, the usual calendar for June will not be published. Here is what we do know at this time:

Classes

- Several teachers have agreed that they may be willing to teach. We will handle classes via email if and when the time comes that we can offer classes.

Groups

- The group leaders have been polled and some groups may meet IF the rooms are open and only under the conditions set forth by the COVID-19 guidelines that will be in place for PVP meetings at that time.
- Be sure to check with your group leader to confirm plans and get updated information a few days prior to the normal meeting time.

Groups that plan to meet	Groups that DO NOT plan to meet.

Open, Open Quilting Times and Monitoring Sign Ups

These days, times, and monitoring duties (sign up process) will be determined after we have some idea of when and how we will open our rooms.

Always check the PVP Website for the most recent COVID-19 Guidelines that will be in place. We will send out updates via the PVP Email if there are any changes to this schedule.

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions.
